- 2. Upon my arrival it was obvious that the Subcommittee had been speaking about the CIA representative being made "official." Since this concept has come up on previous occasions I don't believe we need to append any great inference to the conversation except post-haps that it might be tied in with the desire to make each member "official" before the subcommittee begins to move into "greener particle in its discussions and recommendations. Mr. Block then said that value I objected he would like to forward a memoraneous on this subject to SANACC and insert an item in the minutes to this effect. I had no objection, but suggested that before he put this matter in the nime to he may want to glance at a copy of General Bright's memoraneous of 22 april 1948. After a noisy that of sailing surprise Mr. Block real alow the memorandum and with last gamps from the members as to "why when't will done before?" a tomostone was placed on this sober subject.
- Advocate have each prepared opinions on the legal problems involved in the establishment of the proposed NSIA. The Navy JAG said that the agency could not be brought into existence under present powers of the President, whereas the Air Judge Advocate stated that no additional authority is required. I suggested that it might be a good idea to forward these epinions formally through SANACO to MSC since the NSO staff is now considering the whole problem. The Subcommitted would not sanction such action and said that we should resolve the difference a before sending any paper to SANACO. Commander Knoll and Colomel R sh stated that under our goordinating function we could call in anyon, even representatives of the Attorney General. I contended that in our charter of operation to Formulaise proposed policies and functions or a psychological warfare agency I did not feel that we were as tablished to pass on questions of law between departments. Mr. Block read parts of 30h/1 and 30h/2 in an effort to support the contention of commander Knoll and Golonel Rich but admitted that the passages did not quite hit this point. Though the Subcommittee members did not change that views they did decide to table the problem until a later date.

- Staff to know what they have accomplished in the field of training for psychological warfare as recommended and approved in 301/6. The service members present did not like the idea of our Subcommittee using a newlike on the Joint Chiefs and suggested that this question be held in abecause until the receipt of NSC action on 301/12. The service members also start that the JCS had referred the problem to the Joint Staff and that for training problems of all types the JCS has three officers covering the whole field.
- 5. Colonel McHames asked the question as to what training is being conducted in CIA. I answered by indicating that training as mentioped in 30k/6 covered Army, Mavy and Air Force and said nothing whatseever of Cli.
- 6. Mr. Block referred to Section 5 (g) and (h) of 30h/6 and observed that the Army, Mavy, Air Force and CIA representatives on the Subconditte might be able to supply names of individuals who had worked or psychological warfare while in the service and in OSS just as he had prepared such a list of former OWI persons.
- 7. Colonel Rich was quite amphatic in his desire to "line up he people"immediately. He said that it was his desire to have the committee take up "emergency measures" without further delay and get the people who would fit into the different parts of the proposed organization while has been sent to the Mational Security Council.
- 8. Commander Rholl stated that the Subcommittee should formulate and recommend to the MSC a statement of policy on the use of psychological warfare as an instrument of national policy.
- 9. Again Colonel Rich insisted on getting the people "laned we"
  for the proposed organization. Mr. Elock said that before we go further in ascertaining the resources and capabilities of the departments of government, we should first go into more detail to elaborate on the functions touched upon in the skeleton chart.
- Security Council can turn down the proposal which is now before these especially in view of the recommendation of the JCS. As we conclude the meeting he made the rather naive observation that with negative action on the part of the National Security Council "the Joint Chiefe can residual masse."
